“AMONG so many excellent Institutions, it is hardly fair to single out one for special notice, but the work done at the Normal College for the Blind, Norwood, in developing the physical and mental powers of the inmates, and training them to occupations in which they can earn a living, seems to us exceptionally helpful. Its working expenses are only 6 per cent. on an expenditure of £10,700 a year.

“A good charity will always be supported, provided it is carried on with economy and courage.”

Report of Executive Committee to the General Council.

THE Executive Committee of the Royal Normal College for the Blind are again glad to report, that there is a continued and increasing demand from all parts of the country for the advantages offered by the College, both in the lower and higher divisions. On the 1st of January, 1895, the number of pupils in attendance was 191, and at the present date, it has increased to 214, of whom 112 are under 16, and 102 above that age.

There has thus been a very rapid increase in numbers during the last two years, arising mainly from the action of School Boards, under the Act passed in 1893, to the result of which and their consequent action, the Committee refer more at length below.

It is highly gratifying to state that the Education Department has recognized our Normal Department for Teachers as a National Training College.

For the first time, in 1894, we were enabled to claim a share in the Government Grant for Elementary Education, amounting to £478 12s. 6d.

As this report is in preparation, we are pleased to find that a still larger sum has been earned in the year 1895-6.

The Education Department, in renewing for the current year their certificate of the Preparatory School for 138 blind children, forward the following summary of the Report of H.M. Senior Chief Inspector of Schools, Rev. T. W. Sharpe, C.B., which will be highly satisfactory to our supporters, and does no more than justice to our able and energetic Principal and intelligent and earnest staff:—

“ The Institution is conducted with a liberality and care for the welfare of the children that are worthy of the highest commendation. The Principal is ably supported by a full staff of teachers, who work with intelligence and devotion. The general arrangements for the health of the scholars, especially for their physical training, are excellent. The provision for their manual training is very complete, and the whole of the school work is done with a thoroughness, kindness, and an intelligent variety of methods which reflect the highest credit on the staff.”

In evidence of the remarkable success which has followed the training given in the College in past years, enabling their pupils to become self-supporting citizens, we point with pride to the fact stated in the Principal's report, that the earnings of our old pupils amounted in the year 1895 to no less a sum than £23,000.

Gardner Trust.

The Committee of the Gardner Trust have continued their very valuable aid to the work of the College in scholarships for pupils. Without such assistance, most or all of these pupils must have lost this grand opportunity of preparing themselves for useful and independent positions.

The Annual Meeting of the General Council was held at Grosvenor House, on July 3rd, 1895. The Right Hon. A. J. Mundella, M.P., presiding.

A Special Meeting of the General Council was held at Grosvenor House, on February 14th, 1896, to consider and act upon the negotiations which had been carried on between the Executive Committee and the School Board for Loudon. His Grace the Duke of Westminster, K.G., presided.

The Annual Prize Festival was held at the College, on July 30th, 1895, His Excellency Thomas F. Bayard (American Ambassador) presiding. The best thanks of the Committee are due to Mrs. Bayard for kindly presenting the prizes on that occasion.

Through the liberal assistance of His Grace the Duke of Westminster, the Hon. W. F. D. Smith, M.P., and a few other friends promising special donations in annual payments for five years, the Committee have, since the close of the year under review, been encouraged to secure, at the price of £6,500, a neighbouring property of about three acres, with a large house, which it is intended to use mainly for the Training College Department, and name the "Smith Training College," in commemoration of the Right Hon. W. H. Smith, M.P., one of our first trustees, and of our earliest and most liberal supporters.

As the house and grounds will require a considerable outlay for adaptation, and as yet only part of the promised contributions have been paid in, the Committee have only paid £2,000 in cash, leaving £4,500, temporarily on mortgage of the property.

In 1894 a large donation from our constant friend, Mrs. Armitage, enabled us to show an excess of income over expenditure. Our expenditure for the past year, 1895, is much beyond our income, the reasons for which are intimately connected with the important matters which we will now proceed to explain.

In their report for 1893 the Committee adverted to the Act then recently passed, making additional provision for the Elementary Education of Blind children under 16, and in the report for 1894 they intimated that negotiations were pending with the School Board for London, in order to obtain the greatest possible advantage from the new legislation. While thankfully recognising the great advance secured in the responsibilities laid upon School Boards, under the Act of 1893, the Committee were met with three great difficulties :

First, the powers and duties of School Boards cease at the age of 16, long before the blind pupil can go out into the world with any hope of self-maintenance, leaving to be supplied by private charity the all important professional and technical training of the following years ;

Additional Property.

Elementary Education Act.

Second, the necessity for continuity in the system of training throughout from an early age, without which a pupil cannot hope to attain the highest success, especially in music ;

And thirdly, a difficulty created by the Act itself, by which it was enacted that a school shall not be certified by the Education Department, as suitable for providing elementary education for blind or deaf children, unless it is either managed by a School Authority, or the annual expenses of its maintenance are (to the extent of not less than one-third), defrayed out of sources other than local rates or moneys provided by Parliament. And further, that for this purpose, there shall be included in local rates, any sum received under the Act by a School Authority from a parent and applied towards the general expenses of the School Authority.

The effect of these provisions was that after January 1st, 1894, blind children under 16 could only be received at the College from School Authorities, upon the terms that at least one-third of the cost should be provided from the funds of the College, and further that no contribution towards the cost of such children could be expected from the parents or guardians of the children, as had previously been the case. Consequently, that a sum of about £15 per annum would have to be raised from charitable sources, for each child under 16 received from any School Authority.

For some years, down to 31st December, 1893, there had been carried on at Norwood—

A Preparatory School for younger children of both sexes,

A College Department for older pupils of both sexes, A Technical and Pianoforte Tuning Department, and a Normal Department for training Teachers.

The number of pupils averaged about 160, of whom a considerable proportion were under the age of 16.

The system of education adopted is necessarily very costly, involving as it does a large proportionate number of teachers and attendants, the best professional teachers of music, and ample provision for gymnastic and other physical training, with a generous diet.

But the Committee believe that the results obtained in fitting the pupils for self-maintenance, fully justify the expense, as being the truest economy.

Prior to January 1st, 1894, numerous pupils under 16 were under training at the College, upon terms of payments guaranteed by various Boards of Guardians and School Authorities, the payment required in each case by the College being made up either by the parents or guardians of the children, or from charitable sources.

After January 1st, 1894, applications were made to the Committee by various School Authorities for the continuance of pupils already in the College, and for the reception of additional children under 16, upon such terms as would comply with section 7 of the Elementary Education (Blind and Deaf Children) Act 1893, as quoted above.

As a temporary measure, the Committee determined to continue the pupils under 16 already in the College for whom School Authorities were responsible, and accept additional pupils from such School Authorities, upon such terms as would comply with sec. 7 of the Act, notwithstanding the fact that the ordinary income of the College was insufficient to meet the additional cost thus thrown upon it.

The Committee could not expect permanently to obtain, in voluntary contributions from the general public, funds for the maintenance and education of children, on whose account that obligation is by law now cast upon School Boards, and in fact, as a consequence of their decision, they found themselves involved in an annual excess of expenditure over income during the period of transition. The Committee are confident that their supporters will approve of their action in this matter.

The altered circumstances created by the Act of 1893 having thus rendered it impossible, in the opinion of the Committee, that the Preparatory department could any longer be carried on by voluntary contributions, it was felt—

That the loss or severance of that department would most seriously impede the successful work of the higher or College department, since such an efficient training as will alone enable the young blind to become self-supporting must be begun early and carried on continuously;

And that without association with a School department, the conduct of a Training College for Blind Teachers would be rendered impossible;

And further that the efficient training of the younger pupils would be seriously compromised if severed from the College, and deprived of the many advantages which the children now enjoy in common with the Students of that department;

And it was considered that the grounds already acquired by the College, with the addition then in view, would be ample for both purposes.

London School Board,
Negotiations,
&c.

In order to meet these difficulties the Committee, in the year 1894, entered into negotiations with the School Board for London, with the object of transferring to the Board the entire control and responsibility of their School, so far as the same came within the powers of the Board, upon terms which would allow of the College department, Technical School and Training College being continued side by side, in connection with the School, and with the joint use of the same grounds and other special advantages as heretofore.

It was recognised on both sides that any plan for the division of the grounds or divided managemeut would be open to great objections.

The negotiations showed that the School Board were in full agreement with the Committee on the maiu principles to be secnred, namely—

That in order to fit Blind childreu to become self-supporting it is absolutely necessary to carry on their education beyond the age of 16 ;

That it is most desirable, notwithstanding the transfer of the School to the Board, to maintain its connection with the higher departments of the College ;

That it should be the aim of the Board (acting within their legal powers) to extend and develop the present work of the College on the main lines already laid down and derived from past experience ;

And recognising the great debt owing by the College to liberal and earnest supporters throughout the United Kingdom, it was agreed that a substnstantial number of places (at least 100) should be reserved (on proper conditions as to payment) for students over 16, from London and other parts of the country.

In order the better to carry out these plans, it was agreed that, if possible, the work for scholars over 16 should be carried on by a joint Committee, in which the present Committee of the College should co-operato with members of the Board.

And that the present Committee of the College should continue to regulate the election to scholarships, and collect and receive subscriptions and donations for the support of pnpils above 16, and for pnpils under that age from outside the London area, not otherwise provided for.

After long negotiation and many conferences with a special and inflnential committee appointed by the School Board for the purpose, an agreement was finally come to and approved by the full Board in January of the present year, and by the General Council of the College after full discussion and explanation, on 14th February last.

The contract is in effect for a sale or transfer to the School Board for London of the whole property of the College (except their recent purchase, which had not then been effected) with the existing pupils and staff.

The contract price of £22,000 is very much less than the actual cost of the land, buildings, and effects to be handed over, being calculated on the basis of what would suffice (with a moderate margin) to discharge all the liabilities of the College.

Unforeseen delay interposed to prevent the completion of the contract until 18th June, and it still remains to obtain the sanction of the Charity Commissioners, which the School Board's advisers think necessary.

Although the terms of the contract with the Board were of necessity guarded, so as in no way to exceed the legal powers of the Board, the Committee have full confidence that means will be found for giving full effect to the aims and intentions above expressed, and that the result cannot fail to be in the highest degree beneficial to the cause of the Blind, especially in promoting the objects for which the Royal Normal College was founded.

And they believe that they have effected an arrangement which will give public security, that the scheme and work of the College will be maintained in full efficiency, and as regards that important portion of the work which comes within the legal powers of the School Board, with an ample command of the necessary funds.

The Committee trust that the actual transfer will be effected during the approaching vacation, and that when the College re-opens in October, the new arrangements will be in force.

From the foregoing explanations it will be seen that while the transfer to the School Board will relieve the Committee of all responsibility for the general expenses of the institution, and for pupils under 16, except in special cases, there will remain a great and indeed increasing demand for voluntary help to pupils above that age, to enable them to continue their training until they can be fitted to take their places in the world.

At present there are 100 places for such pupils in the Old College Buildings, and 35 additional in the recently-purchased house, and the cost of these cannot be put lower than £60 per annum for each.

The Committee therefore most earnestly appeal to all their Appeal. supporters, and to those who have not yet realized the excellence of the work which is being done, and its claim upon them, to help to the utmost of their ability in supplying the funds for carrying on this most urgent and nationally important work, either by increased annual subscriptions to the General Fund, or by contributing to the cost of individual pupils.

On the transfer of their College to the School Board for Loudon, the Committee feel bound to make some suitable recognition of the long and faithful service of those employees who have been engaged in the work for many years, and look to their supporters to sanction this.

It will be remembered that Dr. Campbell has spent Conclusion. the whole of his life in endeavours to raise the condition of the Blind socially, physically, and morally, thus enabling them to compete with those who possess the blessings of sight. Deprived of his own eyesight by an accident in early youth, he eagerly availed himself of every opportunity of acquiring knowledge and technical skill, not only in music but in other branches of learning; and by happy intuitive genius he has successfully developed means for imparting the result of his experience to the Blind generally, both old and young, in all parts of the kingdom. For 25 years, although not a British subject, he has devoted his life, energy, private means, and health itself to the ever pressing necessities of the work carried on in the Normal College, and it should be added has, owing to the limited resources of the institution, drawn only a portion of the salary allotted to him by special resolution in 1884. Moreover, his wife, Mrs. Campbell, has for 21 years given her constant services in various capacities wholly without pecuniary remuneration.

The Committee feel sure that the British public will not allow such distinguished and eminently valuable services to terminate without adequate recognition.

"Education, briefly, is the leading human souls to what is best, and making what is best out of them; and these two objects are always attainable together, and by the same means; the training which makes men happiest in themselves also makes them most serviceable to others."
 —Ruskin.

In presenting this Report for 1895, I desire to express my hearty thanks to our enthusiastic staff, including Professors, Teachers, and Officers, and my grateful appreciation of their ready co-operation and indefatigable energy in carrying out even the smallest suggestions, which have enabled us to lift a large, inert mass of helpless blindness into a hopeful condition of happy, playful childhood.

Number of Pupils.

The number of pupils in attendance January 1st, 1895, was 191. The present number is 214, of whom 112 are under 16, and 102 over 16 years of age. We are again able to report that the general health of the establishment has been excellent. In the autumn of 1894, we admitted a large number of children whose health and vitality were very much below the average. The change which has taken place in these children, both mentally and physically, proves the importance of daily, systematic physical training, suitable play-grounds, and healthful sport.

In the spring of 1895, we had a number of cases of influenza, and one death occurred in the College. Mariauna,* a Syrian girl, who was brought from Joppa by our good friend Miss Love, passed away after a short illness. Ethel Stammers, a bright, lovable child, died suddenly at home, during the holidays, and it was found that her blindness and death resulted from a tumour on the brain.

Since the beginning of 1895 we have sent out twenty-one pupils, of whom nine hold appointments; one of the nine obtained his certificate in a previous year, but as he had not succeeded in working up a satisfactory business, we found a good situation for him. I have received the following letter from his employer:—

Employment of Pupils.

22nd January, 1896.

DEAR SIR,

Now Mr. ——, whom you sent me, has been with me some weeks, I think I ought to tell you that I find him an excellent pianoforte tuner, and that I am very satisfied with him in every way. He seems attentive and painstaking, and I think he will prove to be just the man I want.

If it was generally known how your Tuners can get about, I believe there would be a great demand for them. I shall have no hesitation in recommending them, and shall be pleased to do so, if I have the opportunity.

I remain, dear Sir,

Yours faithfully,

F. J. CAMPBELL, Esq., LL.D.,

Principal,

Royal Normal College for the Blind.

Of the remaining twelve, eight are working up private business connections; five of the eight are already paying their way, and the others, though not self-supporting, are gradually increasing their business. Of the remaining four, one has private means, but she is very active in promoting the interests of others who are less fortunate; one has failed to give me information, one was working up a teaching connection, but severe illness compelled her to relinquish all work for many months; and one has only recently left the College.

At the end of the year, I sent my annual letter with Christmas greetings to the old pupils, and asked them to give me a statement of their earnings for 1895. As yet, a number have not replied, but from the answers received, taken with the returns for last year, I know the total earnings for the year 1895 were about £23,000. No one need hesitate to supply such information for the encouragement of others and the gratification of our supporters; we do not intend to publish either details or names.

During the year, we have introduced Slöjd knitting and sewing. We were fortunate in temporarily securing the services of Miss Anna Molander, an enthusiastic teacher from Finland; she has given much time and thought to the subject, and skilfully developed this form of hand training for the blind.

From year to year we have gained fresh experience in training blind teachers—our watchword has ever been “Onward!” We are reorganizing and improving our Normal Department, and we are confident more satisfactory results will yet be obtained. Students preparing to become school teachers, after passing the Queen’s Scholarship Examination, will take the course as laid down in the Code for Training Colleges, while those intending to become music teachers, after passing the Queen’s Scholarship Examination, will only take literature and history in addition to the professional course in music laid down in the Syllabus. (See p. 33.)

It is mainly due to the scholarships given by the Gardner Trust, that we have been able to accomplish so much for the professional and business training of the Blind. Many of our most successful students have been drawn from the poorest classes. Many who are now in permanent situations, earning good incomes, would to-day have been helpless objects of charity, without the educational advantages they received through the Gardner Scholarships. Again I have the privilege of conveying to the Gardner Trust the hearty thanks of all the past and present Gardner Scholars. Our best thanks are also due to Mr. Wilson, the able, obliging, sympathetic secretary of the Trust.

The Gardner Scholarships are open to all the young blind of England and Wales, over 16 years of age.* Candidates should, as far as possible, be prepared to undergo an examination in the subjects prescribed as for Standard VII. of the Code of Elementary Education. Special attention should be given to Literature and Mathematics. The character, general intelligence, and habits of the Candidate will be taken into consideration. In regard to applicants for the Technical School it is impossible to fix hard and fast rules; the arrangements must be elastic. Candidates should apply to Henry J. Wilson, Esq., Secretary of the Gardner Trust, 53, Victoria Street, Westminster, or, the Principal of the College.

According to the Elementary Education (Blind and Deaf Children) Act, 1893, the compulsory school age for blind children is from five to sixteen; consequently, our school course will be graded as follows:—

First Division, or Kindergarten Department, from five years to nine.

Second Division, or Primary Department, from nine years to thirteen.

Third Division, or Grammar and High School Department, from thirteen years to sixteen.

The first division will be conducted on Kindergarten principles. Fröbel's principle of self-work and self-help is far more essential in the training of blind, than of seeing children; and, as a foundation for all their future work, orderly habits, good manners, and upright conduct are inculcated. In the remaining divisions, the aim will be to carry the children through all the standards as provided by the Educational Code, the work being carried out on broad and elastic lines, while thorough physical, musical, and technical training must be included.

According to the ability and inclination shown by each child, we should determine, as soon as possible, the career by which he or she may be best prepared to become a bread-winner. Many must depend on handicrafts, and these should have additional technical and mechanical training, while those who have the capacity should be carefully prepared for the Gardner Scholarship and other examinations.

As above stated, School Authorities are now made responsible for the education of blind children from 5 to 16 years of age, but under this Act any School for the Blind which is not managed by a School Authority, must provide from charitable funds, one-third of the cost for the maintenance and training of children sent by School Boards. If the School Board becomes the legal authority, it is empowered to defray the entire cost for Blind children between 5 and 16 years of age, and other School Boards who send children to a school so managed can also pay the entire cost. These being the legal conditions, the London School Board and the College authorities have been carefully discussing a plan for united action, with a two-fold object in view—namely, that the Committee of the College shall continue to carry on the higher education of the Blind over 16 years of age, and thus prepare them for self-maintenance, and the School Board, without the aid of charity, give its blind children the superior opportunities for elementary education afforded by the Preparatory School of the College. The Patrons, Council, and Executive Committee of the College only desire to serve the Blind in the most effective way, therefore they have agreed to transfer the property of the College to the School Board, at about two-fifths of the actual cost, but the transfer is made on the following condition:—In lieu of giving the full price for the property, the School Board agrees that the places now occupied by pupils over 16 years of age, shall in the future be retained and kept for such pupils, and that the Scholarships shall, as hitherto, be open by competitive examination, to candidates from all parts of the country. The work will be carried on by a united Board, consisting of a Sub-Committee of the London School Board and the Executive Committee of the College. It will be the duty of the Executive Committee to obtain the funds for the education and training of students over 16 years of age, the funds of the School Board not being available for this purpose.

Properly classified, well graded Special Schools for the Blind are essential. A small school cannot possibly grade its pupils, when the ages of the children range from 5 to 16, and the mental capacity varies from that of the semi-imbecile to the brightest and most promising children. In such a school, there are almost as many classes as children, and the teachers cannot work effectively. To partially meet this difficulty, some Schools have common classes for boys and girls. Under such circumstances intimacies are often formed which lead, in after life, to intermarriage—one of the saddest calamities that can possibly befall any blind man or woman. I should be glad if entirely separate schools could be established for the different sexes.

We should also have separate schools for children who have not average mental capacity. Such children are a heavy drag upon the other pupils, and it is impossible to give them the instruction best adapted to their peculiar requirements.

Some advocate daily classes for blind children in connection with sighted schools, that they may be kept in constant contact with the world. I do not hesitate to assert that in such classes the majority of blind children do not find their true level among their sighted companions; while a properly managed School for the Blind can keep its pupils in constant contact with the outside world, and teach them to realize more practically their true relations to the seeing members of the community. Children who have wise, intelligent parents can be educated in any school, but the great majority of the parents of blind children are poor, and with the best intentions, they cannot possibly accomplish all that is necessary to supplement the work of the day school, however good this may be. When blind children are educated in day classes, the children are classified, not according to age, capacity and requirements, but according to the locality in which they live; and if the object is to prepare the majority of our blind children for self-maintenance, they should be educated in Special Schools well-equipped and staffed, with large and suitable playgrounds, gymnasiums, swimming baths, and all possible facilities for out-door sports.

Practical experience in this and other countries has proved that music in its various branches is by far the most remunerative business for the Blind, provided they have had a thorough training, based upon careful intellectual culture and physical development. The instruction must begin at an early age, and I cannot too strongly emphasise the fact that the very first and most elementary instruction should be given by able and experienced teachers. The failures which have occurred in the musical profession can, as a rule, be directly traced to the bad technical teaching in childhood.

“Smith” Training College.

The Education Department has officially recognised our Normal Department for Teachers as a National Training College. The large house on the new property, lately secured by the Executive Committee, has been examined and approved by the Department, and will be called the “Smith Training College,” in memory of the late Right Hon. W. H. Smith, M.P., one of the first trustees, and one of the few practical helpers in the early days, when we opened the experimental school. His son, the Hon. W. F. D. Smith, M.P., is a trustee and member of the Executive Committee, and much interested in the improvement of the professional education of the Blind. By the unanimous wish of the pupils of the College, the Executive Committee has determined that the principal building, which was opened by H.R.H. Princess Louise in 1878, shall in future be known as the "Grosvenor Building," the Concert Hall as the "Gardner Hall," and the beautiful grounds, which now comprise sixteen acres of freehold land, will be called "Grosvenor Park." The names of the late Dr. T. R. Armitage and Professor Fawcett are already preserved in other parts of the College. Besides contributing large sums for the general work and liberally paying for special pupils, Dr. Armitage gave the Gymnasium, Swimming Bath, and much of the Library, with all of which his name is associated. In 1892 a Memorial Clock was erected, beneath which is a marble tablet bearing this inscription :—

THE ARMITAGE CLOCK AND CHIMES.

ERECTED 1892.

BY THE PAST AND PRESENT PUPILS, COLLEGE STAFF, AND MEMBERS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,

IN MEMORY OF

THOMAS RHODES ARMITAGE, ESQ., M.D.,

FAITHFUL FRIEND AND WISE BENEFACTOR OF THE BLIND, WHOSE LOVING SERVICE TURNED DARKNESS INTO LIGHT.

Our warmest thanks are due to the various Musical Societies and Concert Managers of London, who give our pupils opportunities for hearing the standard works of the great masters and the most distinguished artists. We must specially mention the musical facilities afforded by the Crystal Palace; the daily performances of the Orchestra, under Mr. August Manns, are unique, and the series of Saturday Concerts, unsurpassed by any in the Kingdom. Under the present management our pupils always receive the kindest consideration; a large number not only hear the Saturday Concerts, but have the privilege of attending all important rehearsals. On such occasions as June 27th, when "Elijah" was given, a gallery was placed at our disposal, and one hundred of the students had the opportunity of hearing that grand performance.

Appeal.

When the contract which has been accepted by the School Board and College Authorities has been formally approved by the Charity Commissioners, the cost of training children between 5 and 16 years of age will be provided by the School Board. The Executive Committee of the College must, however, still rely upon their friends and supporters for the means to carry on the education and business training of the Blind, over 16 years of age. The great Music Schools, and various Examining Boards, have given a remarkable impetus to the study of music throughout the British Empire, and what was deemed excellent twenty years ago, to-day would not rank as mediocrity. If funds are provided, the professional education of the Blind can be made to keep pace with that of the Seeing, trained in the great Music Schools, which is proved by the large number of our pupils who are already successfully established in the profession of music. We therefore earnestly appeal to all our supporters to continue their subscriptions, and by interesting their friends in the work, help us to increase our annual subscription list, so that the Blind shall not be left behind in the race.

F. J. CAMPBELL.

"MUSICA LUX IN TENEBRIS."

This motto was adopted when the College was established, and for many years has been on the front of the organ in the Gardner Hall. These words were inscribed on a medal won in a musical competition at the Tennessee School for the Blind, January, 1846. The motto has influenced the work of my life, and has been an encouragement to many pupils of the Royal Normal College. The story of the medal will be found in an article entitled, "Light in Darkness," written by Mrs. Craik, and published in Good Words.

APPENDICES.

APPENDIX A.

MUSICAL EXAMINATION FOR GARDNER SCHOLARSHIPS.

SYLLABUS.

Candidates must be at least Sixteen Years of Age.

PIANOFORTE.

SCALES, ETC.

Major, Harmonic and Melodic Minor, and Chromatic Scales. Arpeggios of the Major and Minor Common Chords and their Inversions. N.B.—1. With each hand separately. 2. In similar motion only.

STUDIES.

Czerny's Studies (edited by Germic), Book 1, complete. Bertini's 50 Studies, edited by Buonamici (twenty-five to be selected). Cramer, Op. 100, Book 1 (first ten, and six from remainder selected). Cramer, 60 Studies, edited by Bulow (first six). Louis Plaidy, Technical Studies (or its equivalent).

PIECES.

Bach, Petites Preludes, edited by O. Lessmann (first six). Beethoven, 2 Sonatas, Op. 49 (Klindworth's Edition). Chaminade, Toccata in C Minor. Durand, Pomponette. Gade, Christmas Pieces (March, Dance of little Girls, Dance of little Boys). Kuhlau, 2 Sonatinas from Op. 20 or 55. Mozart, Sonata in C Major (Klindworth's Edition, published by Furstner, Berlin). Mendelssohn, Songs without Words, Nos. 3, 6, and 12. Raff, Op. 75, Nos. 4 and 8.

*HARMONY AND COUNTERPOINT.*ELEMENTS OF MUSIC.

Thorough knowledge of the Clefs and their use.

Time-table; Time-signatures.

Accent and Rhythm, Grouping, Barring, &c.

The principal technical terms and signs used to indicate pace, manner of performance, &c.

ELEMENTS OF THEORY.

Structure of Scales, Major, Minor, and Chromatic.

Intervals and their Inversions.

Consonances and Dissonances.

Harmonic Chord, with general principles of Harmony and Part-writing deducible therefrom.

Distribution of Parts, Doubling, Motion of Parts, Connection of Chords, Melodic Progressions.

Triads and their Inversions.

Cadences (or closes), Perfect (Full), Imperfect (Half), Plagal. Interrupted; Sequences.

Dominant Seventh and its Inversions, with their Resolutions.

Some general knowledge of the nature of (a) Passing-notes. (b) Suspensions.

Counterpoint in two parts, in the first three species.

HISTORY.

Some general knowledge of the periods at which the great Composers lived, and the kind of works for which they are respectively distinguished.

SINGING.

In many cases boys' voices ought not to be used at 16 years of age. If the voice is in proper condition, marks will be given if the earlier work of the Queen's Scholarship Examination can be taken. Slow, sustained Scales are recommended.

When the voices, owing to condition of age, are not developed, marks will be given for the execution of short phrases and intervals within the compass of five notes. Special marks will also be given for management and control of breath, mouth opening, and facial expression.

ORGAN.

Pupils should not begin the organ until a good, sound pianoforte technique has been acquired. If this has been done, credit will be given if the earlier work of the Queen's Scholarship Examination can be taken.

APPENDIX B.

MARIANNA, THE BLIND SYRIAN GIRL.

(Reprinted from the "Free Church Monthly.")

OUR Sunday School Scholars who have been interested in Marianna, the blind Syrian girl from Jaffa, have heard that she was called away to the Heavenly Home on the 18th of July, at the Royal Normal College for the Blind at Upper Norwood, after a brief illness, while preparation was being made for her return journey to Jaffa. The following letter is from Miss Grierson, a Glasgow young lady, who went out to mission work there six years ago:—

HEBRON, PALESTINE,

14th August, 1895.

DEAR MISS LOVE,—Mr. Hardegg came to see me a few days before we left Jaffa, and brought me your letter with the account of poor Marianna's death. I was much startled to read it, for I had not inferred from your last letter that there was anything dangerous in her illness, and we were expecting very soon to hear from you when she might be expected to arrive in Jaffa. Well, she has arrived safely, by a short and very unlooked for road, at a home far better than any of her friends could have arranged for her, and has entered upon a service for which the Lord Himself must have been preparing her. It does seem very disappointing that she should not have lived to show some fruit of the training that your kindness obtained for her, and I feel sure that she could have been made very useful in some post in this country, yet I cannot feel that her two years in England have been wasted, nor that the money has been thrown away, for by all you write of her and of what Miss Milligan tells me of a visit she paid to her, I feel sure that her character had undergone a great change, both spiritually and morally, and that she was being trained for heaven. Had she lived, hers must always have been more or less a hard life, and we cannot but see that it is loving kindness and tender mercy that has taken her away from probable trials to come. I am so very, very thankful to read Miss Tasker's testimony to her happy and peaceful passing away—truly, prayers for Marianna have been answered, only in a very different way from what any one thought or expected. Curiously enough, at the very time Mr. Hardegg came bringing your letter we had a visit from the man who picked Marianna up in the street when she was deserted by her father and mother, and from him I learned some particulars of her story which I did not know before, as I had not been aware that he had had to do with the case. He said the child was brought to Jaffa by her parents, who were Maronites from Mount Lebanon, unusually poor people, who were really begging their way along. In Jaffa they had a quarrel and separated, the father going on to Egypt and the mother returning to the Lebanon, while the child was abandoned in the street. She was picked up by this man, Abu Attullah, in a miserable condition, blind and sickly, and remained with him until the Baron's wife took charge of her. The parents are believed to be still alive, and it is said that the father came to Jaffa some years ago and tried to claim the girl, but failed. Abu Attullah said that she must have been four or five years old when he took her in, and that it was not more than thirteen years ago, so that her age could not have been more than eighteen at the time of her death. This is rather less than we have always reckoned her to be, but he seemed quite sure of his dates—calculating from the death of his own children. One would not be far wrong, I fancy, in giving her age either as eighteen or nineteen. As for her name, Abu Attullah could not tell me that. It was he who gave her the name of Marianna, and he either did not know or had forgotten her surname. If you decide upon erecting a small headstone at her grave, the inscription would have to be short and simple, but it matters very little about names and dates when the blind girl's name is written in the Lamb's Book of Life and her eyes behold the King in His beauty. With very kind regards, in which M. Labubeh joins with me,—Believe me, dear Miss Love, yours most sincerely,

J. HOPE GRIERSON.

P.S.—I hope that although we have not now Marianna as a subject for correspondence, we may not lose sight of each other altogether. I should be so glad to hear from you sometimes, when you have leisure.

Some fourteen years ago, two poor Syrians, husband and wife, quarrelled and separated in the streets of the ancient Joppa, the husband going away to Egypt, and the wife to her native Lebanon. They left on the street their poor, blind girl, about four or five years old, to be picked up by a stranger. This seems an incident not likely to have touched anyone in this remote isle of the sea, and yet it has done so for good in many ways. A few words may be needed to tell how the little forsaken child was brought into touch with us. Mr. D. L. Moody, the world's evangelist, was visiting Palestine with his Scotch friends, Mr. and Mrs. Mackinnon and Miss Love, and as they came near to Joppa a small company came out to him to Ramleh to ask him to preach the Gospel there also. He agreed to do so, and on the morrow, an hour or two before his departure, a large company was gathered together in the hall of the Church Mission Society to hear him. Miss Love, coming in from the famed orange gardens just in time to go to the meeting, found a girl thrust into the carriage that was to convey her from the Jerusalem Hotel at Jaffa to the meeting-place. The girl was crying bitterly from disappointment at the others having gone without her, and Miss Love was rather disturbed to find that she was blind. Returning from the meeting she was taken into the already crowded carriage by Mr. Moody's kind thoughtfulness for others, and out of this unexpected meeting arose the thought that the Syrian girl might be brought to the College for the Blind in London. By the kindness of Miss Love in undertaking that little girl's education we have all been affected by that far-off incident on the streets of Jaffa. It has furnished an opportunity of showing much Christian kindness. It has deepened our interest in the blind. It has made us acquainted with the remarkable work carried on by Dr. Campbell in the College for the Blind in Upper Norwood, where so many blind are taught to earn their living in various ways. The master of the College, though blind himself, has been on the top of the highest peak of the Alps, and believes that the blind can be taught to do almost anything that other people can do. The old pupils of the College earned in 1893 from £19,000 to £20,000. Above all we can think of this little waif as now safely gathered into the fold of the Good Shepherd. An officiating clergyman at her funeral said it was one of the most impressive he had ever attended, and the whole College seems to have been affected and blessed by the brief career and the early death of this Syrian stranger. And the blessing has not ceased, and will never cease, for such kind deeds done for Christ bear fruit unto everlasting life.

APPENDIX D.

OLD PUPILS' GUILD.

Most blind persons, whether trained as Teachers, Organists, Musicians, Pianoforte Tuners, or for any other trade or occupation, require some assistance at the outset.

They need help in finding suitable employment; recommendations for establishing a connection; pecuniary assistance (sometimes) in providing outfits of books, tools, instruments, &c.; advice in difficulties; encouragement in trials; sympathy at all times; and if overtaken by reverses, judicious and timely help towards a fresh start.

From the very commencement this help has been given, as far as possible, by the College authorities, and the success achieved by our old pupils would have been impossible without it. But owing to the increasing number of certificated pupils, organised effort has become necessary to meet these needs and the expense which they entail. These increasing requirements led to the establishment of a Guild for Old Pupils.

The objects of the Guild are:—

To assist, advise, and befriend Pupils after leaving the College, especially when first starting in their business or profession; to devise and carry into operation such methods as may be found most effective for this purpose, so that every Old Pupil of the College who, having completed his or her College course, and obtained a College Certificate, maintains good conduct and reputation, and is a diligent worker according to his or her ability, may rely on moral, material, and effective support, and timely assistance in every occasion of difficulty, so far as funds will allow.

The management of the Guild is deputed to a Special Committee, including the officers of the Executive Committee, the Principal of the College, and others, among whom are some of the former pupils of the College.

The Committee seek the aid, as corresponding associates, of Ladies and Gentlemen in various parts of this country or abroad, who will interest themselves in the blind, especially in former pupils of the College, and who will undertake to establish and maintain, as far as may be, friendly communication with members of the Guild in their own neighbourhood, and to assist the Special Committee with information and otherwise, in furthering the objects of the Guild in regard to such members; to act as referees for Members; to assist them in finding employment and obtaining customers; to give a patient hearing to their statements, and devise judicious ways of advancing their welfare.

A Register of the members is kept, containing their addresses and employment, with suitable particulars of their circumstances, capabilities, and needs, and also a register of members seeking employment, and of openings and employment available.

APPENDIX E.

RULES AND TERMS FOR THE ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

1. The College is open to the young of either sex and of any rank, but only those will be received as pupils who show sufficient ability to render it probable that by instruction they can be rendered capable of self-support.

2. As without previous trial it would in many cases be difficult to determine whether an applicant for admission has sufficient capacity for the kind of education given at the College, candidates will first be received as probationers for a period of three months, or less. If, at the end of that period, they are found to possess adequate ability, they may become permanent pupils.

3. The annual charge for ordinary pupils in the Preparatory School is £35 per annum*; in the College under 13 years of age, £50 per annum; and over 13 years of age, £60 per annum.†

4. The charge for private pupils in the Preparatory School is £50 per annum; in the College, from £80 to £100, according to circumstances and requirements.

5. The charges for resident pupils include board, lodging, washing, and medical attendance; but not clothing or travelling expenses. Payments in all cases must be made for each term in advance. All cheques and Post Office Orders, in payment for pupils, should be sent to the Principal at the College.

6. The school year will be divided into three terms; for which the payments are due October 1st, January 1st, and April 1st. The first and second terms include three months each, the third term four months.

* The charge for pupils in the Preparatory School is considerably under cost, the balance being made up by contributions to the General Fund. The Committee are making special arrangements with School Boards.

† The Gardner Trust grants Scholarships, after examination, in aid of the young blind of England and Wales, whose friends cannot pay the entire cost (see page 23).

7. Except in cases of severe illness, all pupils are expected to be in attendance at the College on the first day of each term.

8. Pupils will only be admitted at the beginning of one of the terms. If possible they should enter at the beginning of the Michaelmas term.

9. As it is of the utmost importance to keep up home ties between pupils and their families, it is desirable that all pupils shall spend at least the summer vacation with their parents or friends.

10. All pupils must be provided with strong clothes, either new or in perfect repair, as in the following lists, and their parents or friends will be required to renew the clothing when deemed necessary by the Committee.

11. The use of tobacco in all forms is strictly forbidden. All pupils, without regard to age, during their connection with the College, must abstain from the use of tobacco either on or off the College premises. The use of beer, wine, or any drink containing alcohol, is only allowed when ordered by the medical authorities of the College.

12. In all cases the following form must be filled up by a duly qualified medical practitioner. The questions are not, however, put with a view to exclusion, but for information regarding the pupils.

- (a) Is the applicant totally blind, or, if only partially so, has he sufficient sight to enable him to follow any profitable employment ?
- (b) What appears to have been the cause of blindness ?
- (c) Has the applicant had the small-pox ? Has he been vaccinated, and is there satisfactory evidence that the infection was complete ?
- (d) Has he had the measles, whooping cough, or scarlet fever ?
- (e) Has he been subject to epileptic fits ?
- (f) Is he free from scrofula or cutaneous disease ?

(Signed) _____

13. In cases in which the pupil is not entirely paid for by his or her friends, some reliable person must give a guarantee that the necessary clothing will be supplied; and that the pupil will be removed from the College during vacations; and, in case of death, that the funeral expenses will be paid.

14. Parents or friends can visit the pupils on the first Wednesday in November, February, April, and June, between 3 and 5 p.m. If, for any special reason, parents wish to see their children at other times, they should write to the Principal for an appointment. As a rule, it is not expected that more than two friends will visit any pupil on the same afternoon. When visiting the College, parents are earnestly requested not to bring young children with them. Friends cannot visit the pupils on Sunday; this rule is strictly enforced. Parents are specially requested not to bring or send sweets or eatables to the children. If the children go out with their parents, they must not undertake commissions for other pupils.

N.B.—Applications and inquiries in regard to the admission of pupils should be addressed to the Principal, F. J. Campbell, Esq., LL.D., Royal Normal College and Academy of Music for the Blind, Upper Norwood, S.E. Persons can see the Principal on business on Tuesdays from 2 to 3 p.m. (the second Tuesday excepted). Also at the same hour on the first Thursday in each month; otherwise by appointment.

LIST OF CLOTHING.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

Large and tight-fitting dresses are prohibited. Dresses and other clothing must give ample room across the chest. Dresses narrow across the chest invariably lead to bad positions. Parents are especially requested to attend to this requirement, as the health very much depends upon proper clothing. The skirts of the school dresses must be at least  $2\frac{1}{2}$  inches from the ground, to allow freedom in walking.

- 1 Sunday dress.
- 2 Week-day dresses.
- 1 Gymnastic suit, which should be purchased at the College, and must be renewed when necessary.
- 1 White petticoat.
- 2 Coloured petticoats.
- 2 Flannel petticoats.

- 3 Undervests (flannel or merino, high-necked and long-sleeved).
- 3 Chemises.
- 3 Bodices (supplied with buttons for supporting the skirts).
- 4 Pairs of drawers.
- 3 Nightgowns.
- 1 Flannel dressing gown.
- 12 Towels.
- 8 Pocket-handkerchiefs.
- 6 Aprons.
- 4 Pairs of stockings.
- 1 Pair of best boots.
- 2 Pairs of strong boots.
- 1 Pair of slippers
- 2 Hats.
- 1 Sunday jacket.
- 1 Common ditto, or shawl.
- 1 Waterproof.
- 2 Pairs of gloves.
- A sufficient quantity of collars and cuffs.
- 1 Comb and brush.
- 1 Small toothed comb.
- 1 Nail brush.
- 1 Tooth brush.
- 2 Small bags for combs and brush.
- 2 Bags for soiled linen.

N.B.—The gymnastic outfit is indispensable, and should be obtained at the College, as it is important to have all the suits alike. If the clothing and gymnastic outfit is not provided, it will be the duty of the Principal to suspend the pupil. If parents will furnish 15s. for the first year, and 10s. each succeeding year, the pupil will be kept fully supplied with all that is required for the Physical Department.

MALE DEPARTMENT.

- 1 Sunday suit (should be of dark material, black preferred).
- 2 Very strong week-day suits.

Coats and vests must be broad across the chest, to give the lungs full play.

- 3 Shirts.
- 3 Night shirts.
- 6 Collars (at least).

The bands of shirts and collars are often too small: this is a fatal error, as it not only injures the health, but prevents all chance of progress in singing.

- 6 Pocket-handkerchiefs (at least).
- 4 Pairs dark worsted stockings.
- 1 Warm coat or cloak.
- 1 Stiff black felt hat for Sunday.
- 2 College caps (furnished at the college at 1/6 each).
- 2 Pairs of gloves (1 pair of plain dark woollen material or woollen-lined for winter use, and 1 pair of dark-coloured dog-skin gloves for the summer).
- 1 Pair of Sunday boots.
- 2 Pairs of very strong boots for week-day use (without hob-nails).

(Parents are requested to exercise special care in regard to the size of the boots. They are often too small.)

- 1 Pair of leather-soled slippers, with low heels (furnished at the College at lowest wholesale rates).

Gymnastic shoes (black), jerseys (dark navy blue, with 2 inch collar), cap and belt (furnished at the College at the lowest wholesale rates).

- 2 Woollen vests.
- 2 Pairs woollen drawers.
- Comb and hair brush.
- Small toothed comb.
- 2 Small bags for comb and brush.
- 1 Tooth Brush.
- 1 Bag for soiled linen.

The rule in regard to the supply of clothing is imperative.

N.B.—The gymnastic outfit is indispensable, and should be obtained at the College, as it is important to have all the suits alike. If the clothing and gymnastic outfit is not provided, it will be the duty of the Principal to suspend the pupil. If parents will furnish 15s. for the first year, and 10s. each succeeding year, the pupil will be kept fully supplied with all that is required for the Physical Department.

REGULATIONS FOR VISITING THE COLLEGE.

Subscribers and friends who may wish to visit the College, can do so on application to the Principal. Special Visitors' Day, first Thursday afternoon in each month. Literary Classes, 3 P.M. Music, 3.30 P.M. Gymnasium, 4 P.M. Primary School, 4.15 P.M. Technical School, 4.30 P.M.

Parents or friends can visit the pupils on the first Wednesday in November, February, April, and June, between 3 and 5 p.m. If, for any special reason, parents wish to see their children at other times, they should write to the Principal for an appointment. As a rule, it is not expected that more than two friends will visit any pupil on the same afternoon. When visiting the College, parents are earnestly requested not to bring young children with them. Friends cannot visit the pupils on Sunday; this rule is strictly enforced. Parents are specially requested not to bring or send sweets or eatables to the children. If the children go out with their parents, they must not undertake commissions for other pupils.

The College is situated at Upper Norwood. The entrance is in Westow Street, near the Crystal Palace High Level Station. An outline Map showing the position of the College, and of the different Railway Stations in the neighbourhood, will be found on the next page.

The Principal can be seen on business between 2 and 3 P.M. Tuesdays (the second Tuesday excepted); also at the same hour on the first Thursday in each month. Persons wishing to call at other times should make a special appointment.

INFORMATION FOR INTENDING CONTRIBUTORS.

Annual Subscriptions, Donations, and Legacies are earnestly requested, and will be thankfully received by the Hon. Treasurers and by the Principal, at the College.

Cheques and Post Office Orders should be crossed, and may be drawn in favour of the Hon. Treasurers, or the Principal, F. J. Campbell, Esq., LL.D., Royal Normal College, Westow Street, Upper Norwood, S.E.

The Principal of the College will be happy to furnish further information, and to forward copies of this Report and various papers to all who may be willing to assist in bringing its claims under the notice of the public.
